All-ePAG meeting, 14-17 Nov 2022

This year marks the 5th anniversary of the ERNs. Some of you have been involved in the Networks since their launch in 2017, others have joined later and some are newcomers that joined this year. Regardless of when you joined, if you are interested in understanding how to get better at listening to your commuity to represent their perspective in the ERNs, this year's allePAG meeting is for you. We have put together five short online sessions peppered throughout one week. They will take place from Monday to Thursday, each day at 10.00-11.00 CET. Have a look at the sessions and pick the ones that you are interested in!

1. EUROPEAN REFERENCE NETWORKS AND ePAGs 101

Do you still have questions about your role as a patient advocate in the ERNs? This session has been designed specially for ePAG advocates who have been 1 year or less volunteering in the ERNs. Four fellow patient representatives will answer to your questions about the Networks, including any practical matters related to your role as an ePAG advocate. If you have been around for longer, but still want to mingle and meet the newcomers, this session is also for you!

Dorica Dan, ePAG ERN ITHACA Graham Slater, ePAG ERN ERNICA Isabella Brambilla, ePAG ERN EpiCARE Simone Louisse, ePAG ERN GUARD-HEART Opening remarks: Yann Le Cam, EURORDIS

3. HOW CAN I BEST CAPTURE MY COMMUNITY'S VOICE?

Have you ever been asked as an ePAG advocate to participate in the development of a clinical practice guideline, contribute to develop a consensus statement, identify the unmet needs of your community or identify health or quality of life outcomes? In this hands-on session come explore what would be the best approach to collect and analyse your community's feedback. Our speakers will answer your questions and provide practical tips to make your life easier!

Angela Leburgue, ePAG ERN RARE-LIVER Jessie Dubief, EURORDIS Simon Eaton, ERN ERNICA & University College London (TBC) Moderator: Lenja Wiehe, EURORDIS (TBC)

TUE 15 NOV  10.00-11.00

WED 16 NOV

10.00-11.00

2. WHY LISTENING TO YOUR COMMUNITY MATTERS

To represent the perspective and needs of the rare disease patient community in the ERNs, first ePAG advocates must gather the input from the community, analyse the results and use them to guide their work. This is indeed a central part of your role as ePAG advocates, and a challenging task too! How is this role perceived by the different actors directly involved in the ERNs? What does it take? What are the main roadblocks? How can it be effectively operationalised?

Jean-Yves Blay, EURACAN ERN Coordinator Olivia Spivack, ERN CRANIO Project Manager Petia Stratieva, ePAG ERN EYE Moderator: Rita Francisco, EURORDIS

4. HOW DO I COMMUNICATE ABOUT ERNS' ADDED VALUE AND ENGAGE MY COMMUNITY?

The rare disease patient community is a diverse community organised around rare disease-specific local, national, European and international patient organisations as well as National Alliances bringing together the various rare disease patient organisations based in the same country. Join this session to listen to experiences from a national patient organisation, a European Federation and a National Alliance on how to communicate about the added value and benefits of the ERNs, and how to engage the patient community. You don't need to replicate exactly what others have done, but we promise that you will get some inspiring ideas!
